Call for proposals “2010 ALDA Fellowship”

ALDA is launching the call for proposals “2010 ALDA Fellowship” that will allow the flow of ideas and capacities between its staff and the members of its network. The fellowship represents a proposal for the local authorities that are members of ALDA inviting them to support the professional training of either its staff working in the international departments or that of students interested in European cooperation.

The objective of this fellowship is to prepare citizens and civil servants for deepening their knowledge and some specific skills necessary when working on International cooperation, capable of managing the role of a Local Authority in the international field and in the construction of the European Union, with a particular focus on the subject of active citizenship and local democracy.

The possibility to participate at this fellowship will be given to students (in possession of a degree or equivalent or with degree in preparation) and to Public Administrations' servants who work in the International department of their administration, or are moving to it (even if an International department does not exist and it is under construction).

The total number of fellows that will be selected is three (3) which period of stay will be co-funded by ALDA and the sending local authority. ALDA will provide 1.000 EUR per participant requesting a minimum co-funding of 1.500 EUR from the sending structure for a minimum period of 2 months.

The fellowship will take place in one of ALDA's offices (Strasbourg, Brussels or Vicenza).

The conditions in both cases are the residence in the town of the sending local authority and a high interest in the topics of the fellowship.
