Connecting Places and Communities

ALDA - European Association for Local Democracy
Seeds of Democracy – connecting places and communities.

Sub-granting Scheme
Call for proposals
17/02/2026 - 01/04/2026

1. Introduction and background

In order to promote good governance and citizen participation at the local level in Europe and beyond, ALDA supports citizens and groups of citizens in their initiatives aimed at improving their local context, building bridges with local authorities in order to make the change real. In this framework, ALDA works through a participatory approach and the method of multilateral decentralised cooperation, always focusing on strong partnerships between local authorities and civil society organisations.

ALDA aims at strengthening a worldwide global alliance of local and regional authorities and civil society actors working together in local communities, in order to make them more resilient, socially and economically successful, more inclusive, sustainable and fair. This call for proposals seeks to support initiatives that are aimed at fostering European Citizenship and at supporting an inclusive and people-oriented economic local development all over Europe. Additionally, the aim is to cultivate a profound sense of "local ownership" and engagement within communities.

1.1 The CERV Programme

The project falls under the umbrella of the CERV programme, which seeks to support and develop open, rights-based, democratic, equal and inclusive societies based on the rule of law. That includes a vibrant and empowered civil society, encouraging people's democratic, civic and social participation and cultivating the rich diversity of European society, based on our common values, history and memory.

2. The Call for proposals

The call for proposals will fund different organisations developing their own projects at the local level, widening public knowledge, awareness and interest about the EU key policies and strategies. In particular the thematic focus of the regranted actions should have a clear link to ALDA's thematic hubs.

ALDA (European Association for Local Democracy) is a global alliance of local and regional authorities and civil society dedicated to the promotion of good governance and citizens participation at the local level in the European Union, its Neighbourhood and beyond. ALDA works with and for local communities, to address future challenges and to support them in being more resilient, inclusive, environmentally sustainable and fair.

To better respond to today's global challenges, which often require local answers, ALDA organises its work through Thematic Hubs, covering topics such as Environment and Climate, Gender Equality and Human Rights, Youth, Digital Transformation, Migration, and Local Development. ALDA operates through a participatory and decentralised approach, helping its members and partners become real change-makers in their territories.

Supported actions should promote inclusive, participatory and community-led processes that engage local actors and decision-makers, encourage a sense of belonging and shared responsibility, and translate European rights and values into tangible local practices.

Values of non-discrimination and equality, and the promotion of inclusivity must be integrated in all foreseen actions, regardless of their specific objectives. In fact, proposals should clearly articulate how these values will be integrated into the project design, implementation, and outcomes.

The actions must align with the priorities set by ALDA's thematic hubs. Proposals should clearly identify one thematic hub under which their action falls and how it contributes to the overarching goals within that theme.

The results will be sent by email to every applicant and will be published on the website of the project by the 16th of April 2026.

The projects to be awarded and the exact amount of financial support will be decided by the Selection Committee (SeC) following the principles of sound financial management, namely value for money and costs/effectiveness. A minimum and maximum score will be foreseen. The SeC will have the final decision on the selection of the re-granted projects and its verdict will be un-appealable.

The SeC may reject an application if it has selected another that is of a similar nature but has been awarded a higher score.

If there are proposals that demonstrate exceptional strategic merit - considering elements such as innovation, coherence with ALDA's strategy, and outreach - they may receive additional extra points during the evaluation process. These proposals might be identified by a SeC member or by the SeC secretary and brought to the attention of ALDA's coordination board.

A minimum and maximum score will be foreseen. The SeC may decide not to allocate all the available funds if it finds that there are too few applications of the quality required to receive a grant. In other words, the mere availability of funds should not lead to the award of contracts for applications that do not reach the necessary level of quality. The SeC may reject an application if it has selected another that is of a similar nature but has been awarded a higher score. In addition to this, the SeC may draw up a list by subject or geographical area according to the guidelines for applicants. The latter will not be a cause for potential discrimination of applicants but on the contrary it will ensure that there is not an excessive disparity among funded geographical areas.

Each SeC member is responsible under the jurisdiction of equitably and impartiality for assessing the quality of all proposals received. From the time they receive the proposals to be evaluated, the member reports immediately to the Secretary of the evaluation committee any link or conflict of potential interest with a bidder. In such a situation, the member will not evaluate the submitted project and the evaluation will be carried out by other evaluation teams.

Additionally, a beneficiary's ability to produce the final financial and narrative report - in a timely manner - will be taken into account, with repeated delays potentially resulting in exclusion from future calls.

Within five working days from the date of receiving the email informing about the application being non-eligible or not passing the evaluation steps, the applicant may submit a request for redress if they believe the applications have not been correctly assessed. In such a case, an ALDA internal review committee, led by the SeC secretary, will examine the applicant's request for redress, checking the evaluation process in order to verify any formal errors. On the basis of this review, the ALDA committee will make assessments to take appropriate action in accordance with the circumstances.

The review will not concern the subjective judgment of the evaluators.

All requests for redress will be treated in confidence and must be sent to regranting@alda-europe.eu.

17. Reporting

The beneficiaries will provide the necessary narrative and financial reports in English accompanied by the justificatory documents (invoices, receipts etc.), using the templates provided, including photos/pictures and its outreach (online links, publications, lists of participants etc.).

The justificatory documents must be provided for the funding expenditures.

The reporting of expenditure must be carried out by means of real-cost reporting, the related expenses must be effectively incurred and substantiated by means of appropriate expenditure and payment documents.

In order to avoid double funding, all expenditure documents must allow direct traceability to the project by reporting, in general and where relevant, the title of the Project "Seeds of Democracy: Connecting people and Communities"

Additional details will be provided during the online webinar that will be recorded.

18. Communication & visibility

The selected re-granted projects must fully respect the visibility and communication requirements, including the logos of ALDA and of the EU emblem (and the reference "Funded by the European Union", and the reference "Funded by the European Union".
